BUSY DAYS IN THE SOUTH

WORK OF RENOVATION GOING FORWARD WITH RUSH AT NEW ORLEANS FAIR GROUNDS.

Preparations Progressing Well for Revival of Racing in Crescent City in January—Arrival of Two Thoroughbreds Arouses Enthusiasm.

New Orleans, La., November 11.—"It sure looks like old times," such was the comment of some New Orleans people at the Fair Grounds race track yesterday afternoon, when, after waiting for the first time about the great stands, through the old betting ring and paddock, they watched the work going on on the track and, at last, in visiting the stables, discovered two real, sure-enough race horses, which have been here for several days, awaiting the opening of the midwinter race meeting.

The Business Men's Racing Association management yesterday took a number of the newspaper men and others on a trip of inspection to the track, and at the conclusion of the survey all were astonished, first at the magnitude of the plant itself and, second, at the amount of work that has been done by the present committee to put it in condition for the re-opening of racing.

Eighty men were at work on the track and buildings, and were making things hum. A large force has been at work for several weeks, and already has the plant ready to house several hundred horses and to put them upon the track if occasion demanded. In all, it was stated, about 500 stalls will be put in condition now, while more will be available on short notice if they are needed.

And the stalls that are being renovated will be in such condition as is seldom seen at any track, according to the evidence of the experienced. Every stall at the Fair Grounds will be ratproof. The interiors have been entirely re-built and the sheds are being whitewashed inside and out. Instead of the stables being named after the States of the Union, as they formerly were, bright new numbers adorn the roofs.

The track itself seemed to be in the finest possible condition, yet it will not be entirely finished until another layer of fine loam has been worked over it. This will be done shortly, and then it will be what it was before, one of the finest tracks in the country.

"We will have the plant ready for the race meeting in plenty of time," said Chairman Pearce of the track committee. "We have been pretty busy for several weeks, and will be busy for several more, but I think that things are moving along as fast as might be expected, and we are greatly encouraged by the reports coming from the east and north. I feel sure that we will have a successful race meeting."

Forty-four horse owners, now racing at Pimlico, have agreed to come here to race the coming winter. Judge Joseph A. Murphy, who is at Pimlico, today wired Tom Campbell that the following will ship their stables to the Fair Grounds for the opening of the meeting: James Arthur, R. J. Allison, G. R. Bryson, A. G. Blakeley, L. J. Carey, W. Cahill, R. D. Carter, M. J. Conran, J. W. Dayton, J. Farrell, Jr., E. L. Fitzgerald, W. P. Fine, F. S. Hackett, R. V. Haymaker, J. W. Hedrick, F. Harold, Quincy Stable, H. J. Morris, S. R. Howser, J. L. Jones, R. L. Miller, R. Martin, F. Monte, E. McBride, J. D. Miskie, J. Umensetter, J. E. Nash, W. L. Oliver, J. S. Ownbey, J. L. Paul, J. W. Pangle, C. E. Rogers, J. F. Sweeney, R. B. Steele, W. M. Sheedy, J. M. Stowe, J. U. Strode, J. Whalen, E. F. Wright, and R. E. Watkins.

John Hoffman has written to ask for stall room for four horses. He expects to ship here immediately from Latonia.

W. Kerns, who brought two horses here recently from Denver, has them exercising on the local track every morning.

WEIGHTS FOR COMING HANDICAPS.

New York, November 11.—Handicapper Walter S. Vosburgh has announced the weights for three of the handicaps that are to be run during the first two days of the coming meeting of the Harbort Agricultural and Breeding Association at Havre de Grace. This meeting is to open Friday, and a glance at the list of names in the three handicaps is all the evidence that is needed that the sport will be first class. Horses of quality are engaged and it is known that many of them are already on the grounds, while others will move over at the conclusion of the present Pimlico meeting of the Maryland Jockey Club Thursday.

The first of these handicaps is the Mount Royal, $1,000 added, a six-furlong affair for three-year-olds and upward. It is to be run Friday. The weights are:

NEW YORK RACING REGAINING LOST GROUND

Considerably More Than Half a Million Dollars Distributed Among Horsemen by the Racing Associations of the Empire State During the Season Recently Closed

The New York racing season of 1914 has ended and a survey of the results shows that the sport in that section of America is making rapid strides towards rehabilitation. When racing was resumed on the New York tracks in 1913, after a suspension of two years, the total distribution for the season reached the highly respectable figure of $402,603. This year finds the total increased to $580,860, which, it must be conceded, is an exceedingly healthy showing. Increases in stake values have already been announced for next season and there is every reason for entertaining the hope and expectation that it will not be long before New York regains its former proud position of leader in American thoroughbred racing affairs. The season just ended on the New York tracks was made up of 109 racing days, as compared with 75 in 1913.

Of course the showing for 1914 still falls far short of that of the golden days of the turf, prior to the passage of repressory legislation. The high water year of New York racing was 1907, when the distribution reached the princely sum of $2,617,802. As compared with 1909 and 1910, the years immediately preceding the suspension of the sport, the showing for 1914 is indeed encouraging. The distribution for 1909 was $839,893, while in 1910 it was $790,650.

Although the Piping Rock Racing Association's offerings fell off in value as compared with the preceding year, it still retains the lead in the item of average daily distribution, with Saratoga a close second. The following tabulation covers in a general way various phases of this season's racing on the New York tracks:

NOTES OF THE TURF.

C. A. Bergin, official telegraphic censor on the Kentucky tracks, has been spending a day or two in Chicago on his way to Juarez, where he will spend the winter as the representative of several newspapers.The Hotel Knickerbocker has become the rendezvous of New York turfmen. Several winters ago the old Hoffman House was the general meeting place for turfmen during the winter months, and the march since then has been steadily northward until now it is the Knickerbocker. Some of those seen about the rotunda nowadays are Emil Herz, J. L. McGinnis, James McCormick, Jr., David
Stevenson, Philip Stevenson, "White" Applegate, Leo Mayer, Sig Levy and others familiar about the big courses.L. D. Peters, 1302 Hartford building, this city, is raising a fund for the burial of Fremont Sloan, who died in the Cook County hospital a few days ago in a destitute condition. Tod Sloan, one of the brothers of the deceased, cannot be communicated with, being in the service of the French army as a chasseur, and Cash Sloan, another brother, is critically sick in a New York hospital. A number of Chicago men interested in racing have already contributed to the fund and others desiring to do so may communicate with Mr. Peters, whose telephone number is Randolph 2156.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES.

Communications without names and addresses will not be noticed nor answered. No answers will be sent by mail and none by wire unless reply prepayment is made at time of wiring query.B. R. B., Toronto, Ont. Overweights are never overlooked. The weights in charts are absolutely correct, whenever they differ from those in entries.
There are sometimes telegraphic errors or miscalculations at tracks about the latter.

Andrew Miller's sensational good three-year-old Roamer, generally looked upon as decidedly the best of his age in this country, stands at the head of the list of money-winning horses. Next comes Harry Payne Whitney's unbeaten two-year-old filly Regret, and after her the Quincey Stable's Futurity winner, Trojan, whose good showing is entirely due to his success in that one rich stake. The record of the 333 horses that won $300 or more on the circuit is embraced below:

GENERAL NEWS NOTES OF THE DAY

There is every indication from reports reaching the British war office that the German forces about Ypres have been heavily reinforced. The attack of the Germans continues with unabated ferocity and the troops which have been on constant duty in the trenches in this region are believed to have been relieved from a second line which is pressing forward with the greatest determination. The most desperate fighting is reported all along the line. The Germans are attempting to take small towns and villages at the point of the bayonet. The heavy artillery fire from both the allied and German lines has become more violent. Unofficial dispatches assert that great masses of German troops are being withdrawn into Germany from the extreme right wing of the kaiser's army in Belgium. They are supposed to be those who recently attempted to break through the allies' line between Dixmude and Neuport. The Central News Company has received a message from Amsterdam saying that the German army headquarters has been transferred to Alost, which is only fifteen miles west of Brussels and forty miles east of the fighting area around Dixmude. This dispatch also asserts that many trainloads of German artillery are being taken eastward from the valley of the Lys river. The communication issued by the German army headquarters at Berlin says: "Our attacks near Ypres are progressing slowly. More than 500 French colored and English prisoners have been taken and several machine guns captured. Further south our troops also are advancing, the strong counter attacks of the British forces having been repulsed. In the Argonne the fighting is progressing favorably, hostile attacks being repulsed." Petrograd reports that another great raid by Russian cossacks in East Prussia is in full swing. The dashing cossacks of General Rennenkampf are repeating the drive of devastation that early in the war the German army of communication. This time the cossacks have invaded East Prussia at the southwest of the Mazurian Lake region instead of at the north. Russian cavalry has already reached the outskirts of Soldau. Three railroads in that region have been torn up and more than a dozen railroad bridges destroyed. Continuation of the raid into the district north of Soldau will cut off the German army that invaded the Suwalki district and was driven back upon the Mazurian lakes. At the same time the Russian army in Western Poland is continuing its campaigning for the capture of the mighty Austrian fortress of Cracow. The Austro-German forces driven from Czestochowa have rallied upon the upper Vistula, and hard fighting is going on there. Dispatches reaching London from Russian and German sources are widely different as to which side has gained the advantage in the recent fighting. Petrograd claims to have won another victory in East Prussia in the Lysk region, and Berlin reports a defeat for the czar's army south of Wirballen and the capture of 4,000 prisoners. The Russians also give details of their alleged advance in Galicia and Bukovina, while the Germans say they have won a cavalry engagement in Poland. A wireless dispatch from Berlin says: "It is officially reported that after two days' heavy fighting on the Caucasian frontier the Turkish troops have completely defeated the Russian army and captured the Russian positions. A Turkish fleet has pursued Russian ships which were bombarding Koshu, but the ships escaped in the fog." Russian naval headquarters reported the sinking of four Turkish transports. The report says: "The Russian fleet approaching Sogoudak sent vessels with torpedoes to destroy buildings and warehouses. This was successfully accomplished. Our guns also sank a steamer. One of our scouts saw a Turkish transport full of soldiers standing out to sea. The transport on perceiving us tried to regain the coast, but was pursued by a cruiser and sank it. The fleet then stood out to sea. Two transports flying the Ottoman war flag were seen to our left. Torpedo boats which were sent to destroy them discovered a third transport. All were loaded with ammunition, motor cars, aeroplanes and guns. All the transports were sunk. We rescued and took prisoners 248 men. Several of them were German officers. One was a staff officer who was carrying dispatches. The prisoners declared the transports were making for Unier, whence they were to transport troops to Trebizond." It is estimated by Germans that the war is costing the German empire $15,000,000 a day. A Bucharest correspondent says a deputation of university professors, former cabinet ministers and politicians, following an audience with King Ferdinand, organized a committee to prepare the country for intervention in the war. The official list of German casualties in killed, wounded and missing officers and men gives a total of 300,000. A Lillo reports the town was captured by British troops Oct. 20, but retaken by the Germans Oct. 25. Afterward it was repeatedly lost and recaptured. In the bombardments the St. Sauveur quarter, between the passenger station and the city hall, was destroyed. Altogether 1,200 houses were razed. Vice Admiral Count von Spee, commander of the German squadron that encountered British warships off Chile Nov. 1, has been decorated with the Order of the Iron Cross for his victory. A large number of these decorations have been distributed also to officers and men of the squadron, as well as to the captain and crew of the cruiser Karlsruhe. A message from Constantinople states that Russian cruisers bombarded the Bosphorus coal magazines at Eraclea, sinking many merchant steamers. The Turkish fleet sailed out, but withdrew without offering battle. The British admiralty made an announcement of a flight of Lieut. Beever with Sub-Lieut. Earl of Anson and a passenger during which both men were probably lost. They left Eastchurch to fly abroad on Nov. 5. The Indian forces in France have made good, but have achieved none of the extraordinary exploits attributed to them, according to an official British statement, which emphasizes the difficulties under which the Indians are fighting because of their ignorance of the French, German and English languages. Repeatedly the Germans have played tricks on them. "The Germans are full of resource," says the account, "and it is one of their favorite plans to lure the allied troops into attacking them by various devices of which an indicated intention of surrendering is the most common. If this deception is successful a skillfully concealed machine gun turns a murderous fire upon those who have advanced." It is officially announced at London that Carl Hans Lody, alias Charles A. Inglis, who was found guilty by a court martial of espionage on Nov. 2, has been shot as a spy. Lody met his death in the tower of London. Lody died bravely, refusing to the last to reveal the name of the superior officer from whom he received his instructions to spy on the British navy. This was the first execution in the tower of London since 1790. The scene of the execution was the same as that of the execution of the Russian spy, and other persons famous in English history were put to death. Lody, who was about 28 years old, once was employed as a guide by a tourist agency in New York, and also worked for the Union Pacific railroad in Omaha. He was arrested late in September in London charged with espionage and at his trial testified that he was a former lieutenant in the German navy, but that he had been transferred to the reserves. In his capacity as a reserve officer, Lody said, he was ordered to go to England and keep track of the movements of the British fleet. He was warned not to do any spying. He was told to travel as an American citizen and was given an American passport. He claimed membership in several New York societies. Assurances of the loyalty of Mohammedan subjects of King George, despite Turkey's entrance in the war, have been received at the British colonial office. The government of Sierra Leone, which has possession on the west coast of Africa, has transmitted to the colonial office letters from various Mohammedan chieftains, all of whom declare the loyalty of their people. Official announcement is made at Tokyo that torpedo boat No. 38 of the Japanese navy was sunk by a mine at the mouth of Kiauchan bay while dragging for mines. A majority of the crew was rescued. It is reported that after a council of war presided over by the kaiser, the crown prince was appointed commander in chief of all the German and Austrian armies operating against Russia, with General von Hindenburg commanding the army and General Danke the right. Many of the men aboard the German cruiser Emden, which was beached and burned on one of the Cocos islands in the Indian Ocean, after a fight with the Australian cruiser Sydney, were killed or wounded in the battle, according to an announcement made at the kaiser's court. The whole Rhine valley has been closed by the military, owing to the discovery of a case of spying at Basel against Germany. Official information given to the German press says the western campaign is making satisfactory, albeit slow progress. Major Morath declares in the Tageblatt that the German army on the eastern frontier is stronger than ever and can stop any advance the Russians may make in an effort to invade Germany. Contrary to the German report that the Russians had been checked on the frontier of East Prussia, Petrograd declares that a brilliant success in that region has been succeeded by an actual invasion of German territory. An equal triumph is reported from the other end of the long Russian battle line. With Cossacks raiding within twenty miles of Cracow, the commandant of which fortress has ordered the civilian population of the city to leave. Przemysl is said to be fully invested again, and the reduction of this fortress is likely to precede any further advance by the Russian left wing. The French official statement issued yesterday says that the fighting was resumed with great severity between Neuport and the Lys. The French forces generally were successful in maintaining their front, but it is admitted that the Germans toward the end of the day succeeded in taking possession of Dixmude. The British troops are described as having repulsed the enemy at several points. At other points on the line the French claim slight progress. It is reported that eighty trainloads of German cavalry, drawn from France and Belgium, have left Berlin for Posen during the last three days. This weakening of the German cavalry is due to the fact that the fighting in Flanders is confined largely to the artillery and infantry, while cavalry reinforcements are needed to deal with the cossacks, who are advancing with menacing rapidity on the eastern frontier. The Turks are meeting with considerable success in their operations in the Caucasus and on the Egyptian frontier, according to official announcement made by the Turkish government and given out in Berlin. In the Caucasus the Russians have been forced to retire to their second line of defenses. Turkish troops have occupied Sheikzar fort at El Arish, Egypt, and taken four field guns from the enemy. El Arish is on the Mediterranean near the boundary of Egypt and Palestine. It is of importance as a point of water supply. Capt. von Muller of the German cruiser Emden, which was attacked by the Australian cruiser Sydney and driven ashore in the Cocos islands, where she was burned, and Prince Francis Joseph of Hohenzollern, one of his officers, are prisoners of war and neither is wounded, according to an announcement by the British admiralty. The admiralty adds that the losses on the Emden are unofficially reported as 200 killed and thirty wounded. The admiralty has given directions that all honors of war be accorded to the survivors of the Emden and that the captain and his officers are not to be deprived of their swords. The capture of 3,500 soldiers of the Russian army in the fighting in the fighting in France and Belgium, is announced in an official statement issued at Berlin. The statement reported the capture of Dixmude, and gains west of Lange-marek in Belgium, and success in the vicinity of La Bassée, France. Premier Asquith stated in the house of commons yesterday that he doubted that the war would last as long as people had originally predicted.

A battle to decide whether General Carranza or General Gutierrez shall be provisional president of Mexico is expected to take place at Queretaro, where General Pablo Gonzales is waiting with 40,000 troops loyal to Carranza for the appearance of the Villa forces that are backing Gutierrez. General Carranza has ousted the generals commanding 50,000 troops in the vicinity of the capital, but they refused to nullify the agreement to abide by the choice of the Aguas Calientes convention in naming Gutierrez for the presidency. These included Generals Bonavides, Antonio Villalaz and Juvenal Robles. It was reported soon afterward that Villa's advance guard of 15,000 men was on the march toward the city of Mexico. Villa's orders to capture Mexico City in the name of Gutierrez. In the capital there are 27,000 troops under Generals Alvarado and Blanco, but the latter commander is in Aguas Calientes. Fighting continues in the suburbs of Mexico City. Persistent attacks are being made on Xochimilco and San Angel by the followers of Emiliano Zapata. During the fighting Sunday it is reported there were 300 casualties. The Carranza forces have been victorious everywhere in the suburban fighting. Governor Maytorena troops are bombarding the Carranza garrison in Naco, Sonora. Five hundred fresh troops are reported to have arrived at Nogales on the way to reinforce Maytorena.

Shipping men estimate that the volume of the world's maritime commerce has been decreased in the neighborhood of 25 per cent by the war. The heaviest part of the loss falls on Germany and Austria, but there is hardly a nation which does not feel the restrictions imposed upon shipping by the hazards of war and the falling away of international trade. Forced withdrawal of German and Austrian vessels has led to the creation of new trade routes. Business formerly held by these nations has been taken over largely by the allied nations and by United States, Dutch, Danish and Scandinavian vessels.

The British ambassador has informed the state department that he had been advised by his government that while Italy prohibited the exportation of copper, it did not prevent its transit over Italian territory. Consequently, the ambassador said, the British government would feel compelled to detain copper shipments to Italy unless, assured that they were for domestic consumption or were in transit to Switzerland.

The navy department has been advised that a secret wireless station at Escondido, Lower California, had been ordered closed by the Mexican authorities. The station, which was erected on Mexican territory, close to the American border, is one of the several stations from which, according to British officials, German cruisers have been receiving information concerning English vessels.

General Carranza has sent from Cordoba to General Eulalio Gutierrez, a message suggesting that they hold a personal conference in an attempt to avert the new war that is threatened in Mexico. No reply has been received from General Gutierrez. In the meantime the Carranza troops are preparing for a defense of the Mexican capital.

Another bomb attack by Chinese revolutionaries occurred yesterday outside the residence of Gen. Chi Kuang Lung, who is in charge of the Canton district. Thirteen persons lost their lives. An attempt was made to assassinate Gen. Lung a year ago. He has been active in recruiting for the Chinese army in the province of Kwangsi.

Missionaries and mission workers in Turkey are fully safeguarded in spite of the fact that the Ottoman Empire is at war, said a cablegram which reached the American board of commissioners for foreign missions from W. W. Peet of Constantinople, treasurer of the board's Turkish interests.

Former Speaker Cannon, who will return to Congress next March, may be assigned to the appropriations committee, of which he was chairman for many years. Chairman Fitzgerald and most of the other members of the committee have been re-elected.

The food situation in Belgium is daily becoming more critical. Even Antwerp, which is the best supplied of the Belgian cities, is clamoring for the provisions brought into the country by the American commission.

Louis Wessels, until recently head of the commission firm of Wessels, Klenkamp & Co., of New York, was committed to the high court at Kingston, Jamaica, for trial under the military secrets act. Bail was refused.

American troops probably will be ordered out of Vera Cruz soon, leaving the Mexican factions to settle their own differences, as a result of the recent developments, which have brought the guaranties the Washington government demanded.

Gen. Venustiano Carranza has acceded to all the demands of the United States government in connection with the evacuation of Vera Cruz by the American forces, according to private advices received here.

The Duke of Teck has been promoted to be colonel in the British First Life Guards in succession to Colonel Edwin B. Cook, who was killed in action. The Duke of Teck is a brother of Queen Mary.

The peace commission treaty between the United States and Great Britain became operative upon the exchange of ratifications between Ambassador Spring-Rice and Secretary Bryan yesterday.

STATISTICS OF RACING IN ENGLAND.

Greatly abridged by the War of Nations, the English flat racing season of 1914 will come to an end Saturday, November 28, with simultaneously conducted meetings at Manchester and Lingfield Park. It is a tribute to the steadfastness of the British temperament that racing has been carried on as it has, while the nation was courageously facing and sustaining military stress of unexampled severity and scope. Many meetings customarily held each year were abandoned, but all of the greater ones except the York Summer were dispatched without interruption. One feature of the season was greatly pleasing to Englishmen is the fact that King George had his best year so far as a turfman and in his splendid colt Friar Marcus possesses an Epsom Derby candidate of next year with credentials second to none. It has been a year of great success for J. B. Joel, who is easily the leader among winning owners. In the list of winners of $15,000 or more, only two American owners have a place, H. R. Duryea through Durbar's victory in the Epsom Derby and H. P. Whitney, who owes inclusion in the list to the extraordinary speed of Harmonicon, now in this country and destined to grace American racing next year. Up to and including October 24 the owners whose horses had won aggregates of $15,000 or more were the following:

Up to October 24, thirty-four horses had won $12,500 or more, of which Trois Temps, Torloist, Good and Gay, Pommern, Silver Tag, Lady of Asia and Nassau gained places in the list since Daily Racing Form last published English turf statistics. Of the newcomers Trois Temps gained a high place in the winning list, when on October 1, he won the rich Jockey Club Stakes for W. Astor and put his owner second to J. B. Joel in the winning owners' list. Friar Marcus placed himself first among the newcomers of the year when he captured the much-prized Middle Park Plate. Of the other new ones all but Nassau are two-year-olds, and good ones. The list of winners of the sum named is as follows:

Among the sires of the year, Polymelus is still the leader and will remain such to the close. But among the others considerable changes have been wrought, William the Third advancing from seventh place to a probably secure second because of valuable races won by Trois Temps and Nassau. Cicero has also advanced in the list and on October 24 those with progeny which had won $25,000 or more were the following:
